

Ariana Cobb

@02875117 Week #4 HW2

1. Who was the main person/character in each story? (Use reporter name/story in your response)

- The main characters in Dawchelle Hamilton's story were the trump and anti-trump supporters who were arguing throughout the story
- The main character in Tatiana Swain's story was her younger sister Isabelle Swain who was featured twice
- The main character in Trya Trent's story was Moet Thomas who was featured twice
- The main character in Judayah Murray's story was Wanda Henderson, the owner of Wanda on 7th
- The main characters in Selina Clases' story were the members of the S.V Alt Washingtonia
- The main character in Journey Rucker's story was Ken Starnes, a local business owner
- The main character in Bria Patterson's story was Ryane Nickens who was the founder of the TraRon Center that was featured in this story
- The main character in Rachel Sudduth's story was Hilary Shelton who was featured in the story twice
- The main characters in Richard Foster-Shelton's story were the two students who lived off-campus
- The main character in Camille Myrie's story is Chef Sammy Davis
- The main characters in Cache McClay's story were all the man on the street interviews that she received
- The main characters in Bianca Burns were Professor Strguis and Grant since this story focused on professors
- The main character in Jasmine Turner's story was Brandon Copeland
- The main character in Tanasia Smith's story is Little Bacon Bear
- The main character in Bria Nicole Stone's story is Ardelle Dickerson

2. How did the reporter include "facts" in the story? (Use reporter name/story in your response)

- Dawchelle Hamilton included facts by doing research on the topic then asking people at the protest for statements
- Tatiana Swain included facts by asking the target demographic questions regarding the social platform
- Tyra Trent included facts by doing research on the topic, and pulling relevant photos

- Judayah Murray included facts by speaking with the owner who was able to give the facts
- Selina Clase received facts by asking the members of the organization about the club
- Journey Rucker was able to include facts by asking the experts their experiences during COVID-19
- Bria Patterson included facts by speaking with the founder who was able to give the facts
- Rachel Sudduth included facts by asking the interviews who are experts on the topic
- Richard Foster-Shelton was able to include facts by asking students for their experiences and going to the experts on campus who help with off-campus housing
- Camille Myrie included facts by going to the source and asking about the start of Milk and Honey
- Cache McClay included facts by asking people on the street their opinions
- Bianca Burns included facts by going to the source and asking professors what they are doing to incorporate digital media in their teaching
- Jasmine Turner included facts by including statistics on African Americans that are interested in yoga
- Tanasia Smith was able to include facts by going directly to the source, Little Bacon Bear
- Bria Nicole Stone included facts by asking the interviews who are experts on the topic

3. What was the TRT for each story and where did the reporter do the standup?

- Dawchelle Hamilton's TRT was 1:19 with her standup done outside where the protest was occurring
- Tatiana Swain's TRT was 1:40 with her standup being done on a Tik Tok
- Tyra Trent's TRT was 1:33 with her standup being done on the Yard where some of the graffiti was located
- Judayah Murray's TRT was 2:24 with her standup being in a salon chair getting her hair trimmed by the owner
- Selina Clases' TRT was 1:30 with her standup being done at the festival she was covering in a similar dress to the participants
- Journey Rucker's TRT was 1:20 with her standup being done outside of her house picking up food
- Bria Patterson's TRT was 2:26 with her standup being done at the center she was covering surrounded by students who attend the facility
- Rachel Sudduth's TRT was 1:30 with her standup being done near a DC police car

- Richard Foster-Shelton's TRT was 2:06 with his standup being done outside of his off-campus house
- Camille Myrie's TRT was 2:18 with her standup being done outside of Milk and Honey with a to-go bag
- Cache McClay's TRT was 1:42 with her standup being done outside of the White House
- Bianca Burns' TRT was 1:57 with her standup being done in a classroom through a recording iPad
- Jasmine Turner's TRT was 1:40 with her standup being done on the Yard where a yoga class was hosted, in a yoga pose
- Tanasia Smith's TRT was 1:40 with her standup being done in WHBC, the radio station on campus
- Bria Nicole Stone's TRT was 2:30 with her standup being her walking with a pageant crown in her hands

4. Which story had the most creative standup and why?

I believe that Tatiana Swain had the best standup because she used the social media platform that her story was about to create her standup. Instead of showing us the app on her phone, she made a Tik Tok for her stand-up. Another standup I thought was creative was Judayah Myrray's with her getting her hair trimmed by Wanda!

5. Which five video pkgs do you think most follow Prof Thomas' "formula" for storytelling? (You should provide the name of the story and reporter for each, and use complete sentences.)

The five packages I believe follow the formula are Judaya, Tatiana, Camille, Selina, and Cache. These all followed the formula by putting their story in the correct sequence, interviewing the right number of people, and also having a clear and creative standup in each of their stories

6. Now using this "formula" who might be the person on whom you focus in your story? How will you find that person? What research will you use to get the facts for your story?

It is important to ensure that the people we find for our stories are relevant and knowledgeable about the topics we decided to report. I will go about researching for my people by observing websites and social media to find the perfect people to talk with. It is also important to gather credible statics and facts from reliable websites.